

TopDog Consultants Report 1

Summary of Lessons Learned in Sprint 1:

- As project manager I learned it is vital to meet with the client more than once each sprint
- As a team we learned the sequence in which we should perform our tasks
- Github is an amazing tool if used correctly
- Having a design template and actually having the design implemented are two completely different things
- Setting clear objectives is crucial to being able to make progress

What we would rank ourselves: Top 5